2. Members of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation, representing the judges of courts of all types and levels, are elected by secret vote of the congress delegates of the corresponding courts, from their own ranks, at separate delegate meetings. A judge who gets the most votes of the congress delegates participating in the vote at a separate delegate meeting (if more than a half of the congress delegates of the corresponding courts participate in the vote) is regarded as elected to the Council.

Members of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation, proposed by the conferences of judges, are elected by a secret vote of the congress delegates. Judges who get the most votes of congress delegates participating in the vote are regarded as elected to the Council.

3. The Council of Judges of the Russian Federation elects from among its own members the President of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation and her/his deputies. The president and her/his deputies are accountable to the Council.

Abrogated.

The Presidium of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation is elected by the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation from among its own members, taking into account the need to represent in it the judges of federal courts, in particular the judges of the Constitutional Court of the Russian Federation, of the Supreme Court of the Russian Federation, of courts of general jurisdiction (including the military courts), judges of commercial courts and of courts of constituent entities of the Russian Federation. The President of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation and her/his deputies are members of the Presidium of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation ex officio.

4. Councils of judges of constituent entities of the Russian Federation are elected by conferences of judges in the number and in the manner stipulated by the conferences of judges in accordance with their rules, taking into account the need to represent in them the judges of, accordingly, supreme courts of republics, courts of territories, regions, federal cities, of a court of an autonomous region, courts of autonomous circuits, commercial courts of constituent entities of the Russian Federation, constitutional (charter) courts of constituent entities of the Russian Federation, as well as to represent the justices of the peace, the judges of district courts and garrison military courts acting on the territories of the corresponding constituent entities of the Russian Federation.

A council of judges of a constituent entity of the Russian Federation elects from among its members the president of the council of judges of the constituent entity of the Russian Federation and her/his deputies. The president and her/his deputies are accountable to the council.

A member of a council of judges of a constituent entity of the Russian Federation cannot be elected president or deputy president of the council of judges of the constituent entity of the Russian Federation more than two times in a row.

5. The powers of a member of a council of judges may be terminated before due time, upon her/his own initiative or if he/she commits a disciplinary offence. The decision to remove a member of a council of judges is adopted, accordingly, by a congress or by a conference of judges, and during the time between two congresses (conferences) of judges – by the corresponding council of judges.

Article 9. Council of Judges of the Russian Federation as a Body of the Judiciary

1. The Council of Judges of the Russian Federation is an elective body of the judiciary, accountable only to the Congress.

2. The Council of Judges of the Russian Federation is convened as often as necessary, but at least twice a year.

3. The working body of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation is the Presidium of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation, created for the effective and collective resolution of issues stipulated in the Rules of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation.

The Presidium of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation holds its sessions as often as necessary, but at least four times a year.

4. The President of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation convenes the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation, the Presidium of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation and directs their work in accordance with the Rules of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation.

5. The President of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation represents the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation before public authorities and local self-government bodies, public associations, mass media, and when engaged in international cooperation.

6. At the instructions of the President of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation, her/his powers may be exercised by one of the deputies.

Article 10. Powers of Councils of Judges

1. The Council of Judges of the Russian Federation:

1) convenes the All-Russia Congress of Judges;

2) gives consent to the appointment and termination of appointment of the Director-General of the Judicial Department at the Supreme Court of the Russian Federation and hears the Director-

General's annual reports regarding the organisational, personnel and resource support of judicial activities;

3) elects judges to the High Qualification Board of the Russian Federation to replace those that leave it during the time between two congresses;

3.1) elects members of the High Examination Commission tasked with conducting judicial qualification examination (hereinafter also referred to as "the High Examination Commission") to replace those that leave it during the time between two congresses;

4) studies, generalises and disseminates the experience of bodies of the judiciary, elaborates recommendations to improve their activities;

5) stipulates the manner of participation of judges of garrison military courts acting outside of the Russian Federation in the work of bodies of the judiciary of constituent entities of the Russian Federation;

6) performs other powers referred to it by federal laws.

2. Representatives of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation may participate in discussions regarding the draft federal law on the federal budget in the Federal Assembly of the Russian Federation.

3. Within the framework of their competence, the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation and other bodies of the judiciary engage in direct relations with bodies of the judiciary and professional unions (associations) of judges of other countries, with international organisations, as well as with mass media.

3.1. If elements of commission of a disciplinary offence by a judge are discovered, the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation, the Presidium of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation, a council of judges of a constituent entity of the Russian Federation may conduct a check and forward an address regarding the imposition of a disciplinary punishment (in particular, in the form of removal) upon the judge to a qualification board of judges.

An address regarding the imposition of a disciplinary punishment upon a judge for commission of a disciplinary offence in the performance of professional duties may only be forwarded to a qualification board of judges by the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation, a different body of the judiciary indicated in this Item, if there is a special court decree adopted by a higher court, or a complaint or address of a participant (participants) of proceedings regarding the violation of her/his (their) rights by illegal actions of the judge committed during the consideration of a case.

The judge is informed about the conducted check and may participate in it, inspect the materials of the check, present written explanations and objections, as well as evidence in support of her/his explanations. If a judge refuses to participate in the check, this does not preclude the check from being conducted.

4. Councils of judges of the Russian Federation:

1) during the time between two conferences of judges, consider all issues within the competence of a conference of judges, except for election of qualification boards of judges of constituent entities of the Russian Federation and hearing of their reports;

2) convene conferences of judges;

3) elect judges to qualification boards of judges of the corresponding constituent entities of the Russian Federation to replace those that leave them during the time between two conferences of judges;

4) elect members of examination commissions of constituent entities of the Russian Federation tasked with judicial qualification examination (hereinafter also referred to as "examination commissions of constituent entities of the Russian Federation") to replace those that leave them during the time between two conferences of judges;

5) engage in cooperation with the highest executive public authorities of constituent entities of the Russian Federation during elaboration of the draft budgets of the corresponding constituent entities of the Russian Federation, as regards expenses on material and technical support of activities of justices of the peace and the remuneration of members of staff of justices of the peace;

6) maintain the lists of retired judges, who state their willingness to act as mediators on a professional basis.

5. The Council of Judges of the Russian Federation and councils of judges of constituent entities of the Russian Federation may exercise their powers, if their compositions are formed at least by two thirds.

Article 11. Formation of Qualification Boards of Judges

1. Qualification boards of judges are formed from judges of federal courts, judges of courts of constituent entities of the Russian Federation, from representatives of the public, representatives of the President of the Russian Federation.

2. The High Qualification Board of Judges of the Russian Federation is formed of twenty nine members.

Members of the board, who are representatives of the judiciary, are elected based on the following representation quota:

- from the Supreme Court of the Russian Federation – four judges;
- from judges of general jurisdiction courts of cassation – two judges;
- from judges of general jurisdiction courts of appeal – two judges;
- from the military court of cassation, appellate military court – one judge;
- from commercial courts of circuits – two judges;
- from appellate commercial courts – two judges;
- from the supreme courts of republics, courts of territories, regions, federal cities, court of an autonomous region, courts of autonomous circuits – two judges;
- from commercial courts of constituent entities of the Russian Federation – two judges;
- from circuit (fleet) military courts – one judge.

Ten members of the board, who are representatives of the public, are appointed by the Federation Council of the Federal Assembly of the Russian Federation.

One member of the board, who is a representative of the President of the Russian Federation, is appointed by the President of the Russian Federation.

3. Judges are elected to the High Qualification Board of Judges of the Russian Federation by secret vote held at separate delegate meetings at a Congress, by congress delegates of the corresponding courts, from their own ranks.

Judges who get the most votes of the congress delegates participating in the vote at a separate delegate meeting (if more than a half of the congress delegates of the corresponding courts participate in the vote) are regarded as elected to the board.

If certain judges leave the composition of the High Qualification Board of Judges of the Russian Federation during the time between two congresses, replacing judges are elected by the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation.

4. A qualification board of a constituent entity of the Russian Federation is formed based on the following representation quota:

- from judges of the supreme court of a republic, court of a territory, region, federal city, autonomous region, autonomous circuit – two judges;
- from judges of the commercial court of the constituent entity of the Russian Federation – five judges;
- from judges of garrison military courts – one judge;
- from judges of district courts – three judges;
- from judges of the constitutional (charter) court of the constituent entity of the Russian Federation – one judge;
- from justices of the peace – one judge;
- seven representatives of the public;
- one representative of the President of the Russian Federation.

If the overall number of judges of courts referred to in paragraphs 2 – 6 of this Item is less than 30 in a constituent entity of the Russian Federation, the qualification board of judges is formed by 11 members, based on the following representation quota:

- from judges of the supreme court of a republic, of the court of a territory, region, federal city, autonomous region, autonomous circuit – one judge;
- from judges of the commercial court of the constituent entity of the Russian Federation – two judges;
- from judges of garrison military courts – one judge;
- from judges of district courts – two judges;
- from judges of the constitutional (charter) court of the constituent entity of the Russian Federation – one judge;
- from justices of the peace – one judge;
- two representatives of the public;
- one representative of the President of the Russian Federation.

If there is no supreme court of a republic, court of a territory, region, federal city, autonomous region, autonomous circuit, commercial court, constitutional (charter) court of a constituent entity of the Russian Federation in a constituent entity of the Russian Federation, or if justices of the peace don't act in that constituent entity, or if there are no garrison military courts in that constituent entity, then the qualification board of judges of this constituent entity of the Russian Federation is formed without the participation of representatives of those courts. Herewith, the representation quotas stipulated in paragraphs 2 – 8 of this Item are preserved.

5. Judges of Commercial Court of the City of Saint-Petersburg and Leningrad Region are elected to the qualification board of judges and to other bodies of the judiciary of Saint-Petersburg.

The qualification board of judges of Leningrad Region is formed based on the following representation quota:

- from judges of Leningrad Region Court – two judges;
- from judges of garrison military courts – one judge;
- from judges of district courts of Leningrad Region – three judges;
- from judges of the Charter Court of Leningrad Region – one judge;
- from justices of the peace – one judge;
- four representatives of the public;
- one representative of the President of the Russian Federation.

Judges of district courts and justices of the peace of Evenk Autonomous Circuit are elected to the qualification board of judges and to other bodies of the judiciary of Krasnoyarsk Territory.

6. Judges are elected to the qualification board of judges of a constituent entity of the Russian Federation by secret vote at a conference of judges in the manner established by that conference.

If a judge leaves the composition of a qualification board of judges of a constituent entity of the Russian Federation during the time between two conferences, a replacing judge is elected by the council of judges of the constituent entity of the Russian Federation.

Representatives of the public are appointed to qualification boards of judges of constituent entities of the Russian Federation by legislative (representative) public authorities of constituent entities of the Russian Federation in the manner stipulated in laws and other normative legal acts of those constituent entities of the Russian Federation.

Representatives of the President of the Russian Federation in qualification boards of judges of constituent entities of the Russian Federation are appointed by the President of the Russian Federation.

7. Court presidents and their deputies cannot be elected to qualification boards of judges of constituent entities of the Russian Federation. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the Russian Federation and her/his deputies cannot be elected to the High Qualification Board of Judges of the Russian Federation.

A judge cannot be simultaneously elected to a council of judges and a qualification board of judges of the same level and cannot be a member of qualification boards of judges of different levels.

A member of a qualification board of judges cannot be elected president or deputy president of the qualification board of judges more than two times in a row, except for the High Qualification Board of Judges of the Russian Federation.

If a judge's powers are terminated on grounds stipulated in Item 1 of Article 14 of Law of the Russian Federation No. 3132-1 of 26 June 1992 "On the Status of Judges in the Russian Federation", her/his powers of a member of a qualification board of judges are likewise terminated. A member of a qualification board of judges, who is a representative of the judiciary, may be terminated before due time upon her/his initiative or in case of a disciplinary offence, or if he/she is absent from the sessions of the qualification board of judges for four months without a good reason. The decision to remove a member of a qualification board of judges, who is a representative of the judiciary, is adopted by the congress (conference) of judges, and during the time between two congresses (conferences) of judges – by the corresponding council of judges.

8. The position of a representative of the public in a qualification board of judges may be occupied by a citizen of the Russian Federation who has reached the age of 35, has higher legal education, has not engaged in disreputable misconduct, is not occupying a public or municipal position, a position within state or municipal service, is not a head of an organisation or institution (independent of its legal and organisational form, form of ownership), is not an advocate or a notary.

The position of a representative of the President of the Russian Federation in a qualification board of judges may be occupied by a citizen of the Russian Federation who is in the state service of the Russian Federation.

When performing the powers of a member of a qualification board of judges, as well as in extraoccupational relations, a representative of the public, a representative of the President of the Russian Federation in a qualification board of judges must avoid anything that could diminish the authority of the judicial power or raise doubts regarding the objectiveness, fairness and impartiality of the aforementioned representative.

The powers of a member of a qualification board of judges, who is a representative of the public, may be terminated before due time by virtue of a decision of, accordingly, the Federation Council of the Federal Assembly of the Russian Federation or of the legislative (representative) public authority of the constituent entity of the Russian Federation, upon the initiative of that member, or if that member commits a crime, which is established by an effective court sentence, or if that member is absent from the sessions of the qualification board of judges for four months without a good reason, or if that member occupies a position or engages in activities referred to in the first paragraph of this Item.

The powers of the member of a qualification board of judges, who is a representative of the President of the Russian Federation, are terminated by the President of the Russian Federation.

Article 11.1. Formation of Examination Commissions Tasked with Judicial Qualification Examination

1. The High Examination Commission tasked with conducting judicial qualification examination is formed by 21 commission members. Commission members are elected based on the following representation quota:

- 1) from the Supreme Court of the Russian Federation – five commission members;
- 2) from judges of courts of general jurisdiction – five commission members;
- 3) from judges of commercial courts – five commission members;
- 4) from law professors of higher education institutions and from scientific workers who have a scientific degree of a candidate of science in law or a doctor of science in law – four commission members;
- 5) from all-Russia public associations of lawyers – two commission members.

2. Examination commissions of constituent entities of the Russian Federation tasked with judicial qualification examination are formed from the ranks of:

- 1) judges of courts of general jurisdiction and judges of commercial courts; herewith, the number of judges of courts of general jurisdiction in the composition of the corresponding examination commission must be equal to the number of judges of commercial courts, and taken together they must form at least three quarters of the overall number of examination commission members;
- 2) law professors of higher education institutions, scientific workers who have a scientific degree of a candidate of science in law or a doctor of science in law, representatives of all-Russia public associations of lawyers, who exercise the powers of examination commission members on a paid basis.

3. If there is no commercial court on the territory of a constituent entity of the Russian Federation, or if it is impossible to ensure equal representation of judges of courts of general jurisdiction and of commercial courts in the composition of an examination commission of a constituent entity of the Russian Federation due to the insufficient number of judges of commercial courts, such representation is regulated by the rules of the examination commission.

4. Members of an examination commission cannot simultaneously be members of examination commissions of different levels or members of a qualification board of judges of equal level.

5. Examination commission members, who are representatives of higher education institutions, scientific organisations, all-Russia public associations of lawyers, are not bound by decisions of those institutions, organisations and public associations when exercising their powers. Recall of such commission members is not possible.

6. Members of examination commissions of constituent entities of the Russian Federation are elected by conferences of judges of constituent entities of the Russian Federation in the numbers and in the manner established by the conferences of judges in accordance with their rules, taking into account the need to represent judges, accordingly, of the supreme courts of republics, of courts of territories, regions, federal cities, of a court of an autonomous region, of courts of autonomous circuits, commercial courts of constituent entities of the Russian Federation, district courts, as well as law professors of higher education institutions, scientific workers who have a scientific degree of a candidate of science in law or a doctor of science in law, representatives of all-Russia public associations of lawyers.

7. Members of the examination commission of the City of Saint-Petersburg tasked with judicial qualification examination, who represent commercial courts, are elected from the ranks of judges of Commercial Court of the City of Saint-Petersburg and Leningrad Region.

8. Delegates of the All-Russia Congress of Judges elect the members of the High Examination Commission by secret vote. The votes are cast:

1) regarding judges – at separate delegate meetings of judges of the Supreme Court of the Russian Federation, of judges of courts of general jurisdiction and of commercial courts, based on proposals of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the Russian Federation. Judges who get the most votes of delegates participating in the vote (if more than a half of the congress delegates of the corresponding courts participate in the vote) are regarded as elected;

2) regarding other commission members – based on proposals of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the Russian Federation, made with regard to suggestions referred for her/his consideration by higher legal education institutions, scientific organisations, all-Russia public associations of lawyers.

9. Delegates of conferences of judges of constituent entities of the Russian Federation elect members of examination commissions of constituent entities of the Russian Federation by secret vote. The votes are cast:

1) regarding judges – based on proposals of the president of the supreme court of a republic, court of a territory, region, federal city, autonomous region, autonomous circuit and on proposals of the president of the commercial court of a constituent entity of the Russian Federation;

2) regarding other members of examination commissions of constituent entities of the Russian Federation – based on proposals of the president of the supreme court of a republic, court of a territory, region, federal city, autonomous region, autonomous circuit and on proposals of the president of the commercial court of a constituent entity of the Russian Federation, made with regard to suggestions referred for their consideration by higher education institutions, scientific organisations, all-Russia public associations of lawyers.

10. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the Russian Federation, the president of the supreme court of a republic, court of a territory, region, federal city, autonomous region, autonomous circuit, the president of the commercial court of a constituent entity of the Russian Federation propose at least two candidates for every position on the examination commission.

11. The manner for proposing a candidate to the composition of an examination commission is stipulated in the rules of the All-Russia Congress of Judges and of conferences of judges of constituent entities of the Russian Federation, and where Item 13 of this Article applies – in the rules of the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation and of councils of judges of constituent entities of the Russian Federation.

12. The powers of an examination commission member elected from the ranks of judges may be terminated before due time upon that member's initiative, or in case of a disciplinary offence, or if her/his judicial powers are terminated, or if he/she is absent from sessions of the examination commission for four months without a good reason. The powers of a different examination commission member may be terminated before due time upon her/his initiative, or if such a member commits a crime, which is established by an effective court sentence, or if he/she is absent from sessions of the examination commission for four months without a good reason. The decision to remove an examination commission member is adopted by a congress (conference) of judges, and during the time between two congresses (conferences) – by the corresponding council of judges. If an examination commission member is removed, another person is elected to the examination commission by the corresponding council of judges until the powers of the commission expire. An address regarding the removal of an examination commission member and regarding the election of another person to the commission during the time between two congresses (conferences) of judges is submitted to the corresponding council of judges by the court president referred to in Item 10 of this Article.

The decision to remove a member of the High Examination Commission during the time between two All-Russia Congresses of Judges is adopted by the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation. In case of removal of a member of the High Examination Commission during the time between two All-Russia Congresses of Judges, a different person is elected to the commission by the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation until the powers of the High Examination Commission expire.

An address regarding the removal of a member of the High Examination Commission and regarding the election of another person to the High Examination Commission during the time between two All-Russia Congresses of Judges is submitted to the Council of Judges of the Russian Federation by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the Russian Federation.

13. Members of an examination commission elect from their ranks a president and a deputy president (deputy presidents) of the examination commission. A secretary of an examination commission is appointed by the Judicial Department at the Supreme Court of the Russian Federation or by a body that is a part of its system upon proposal of the corresponding commission. The secretary of an examination commission does not participate in the adoption of decisions of the commission.

Article 12. General Assemblies of Judges of Courts

A general assembly of judges may be convened in every court no less than once a year in order to discuss issues pertaining to the improvement of organisation of the court's work, express the lawful interests of judges and, where so stipulated in this Federal Law, to elect delegates to a congress (conference) of judges. A council of judges of the court may be elected by decision of the general assembly.

Article 13. Term of Powers of Elective Bodies of the Judiciary

3. A qualification board of judges of a constituent entity of the Russian Federation may exercise its powers, if its composition is formed at least by two thirds.

Article 20. Review of Decisions Based on Newly Discovered Facts

1. A qualification board of judges may review an earlier adopted decision based on newly discovered facts.

The appeal for review of the aforementioned decision based on newly discovered facts may be submitted to a qualification board of judges by a candidate for the judicial office or a judge, in whose regard the decision was adopted, as well as by the official, upon whose address the decision was adopted, by a president of the corresponding or higher court. A qualification board of judges may review its decision in the absence of the aforementioned appeal, if the newly discovered facts do not allow to regard the earlier adopted decision as lawful and substantiated.

2. The grounds for review of a decision based on newly discovered facts are such facts that were not earlier known to the qualification board of judges, and which, by their own nature or together with earlier established facts, constitute grounds for adoption of a different decision.

Chapter 3. Proceedings in Qualification Boards of Judges

Article 21. Consideration of Submitted Materials by Qualification Boards of Judges

1. The session of a qualification board of judges is organised by the president of the qualification board of judges or her/his deputy, who determines the time and place of the session, as well as the list of persons subject to invitation to the session.

The invited persons must be timely notified about the time and place of the session.

2. The judge, in whose regard proceedings are initiated by a qualification board of judges, has the right to inspect all the materials in possession of the qualification board of judges and to present her/his objections and remarks.

3. The judge, in whose regard proceedings are initiated, is notified about the time and place of the session of the qualification board of judges within the time necessary to ensure the judge's appearance in the session.

4. If a judge, duly notified of the time and place of the session, fails to appear in the session of the qualification board of judges without a good reason, the qualification board of judges considers the issue in her/his absence.

If materials are considered regarding the disciplinary liability of a judge, regarding the possible criminal liability of the judge, the qualification board of judges may decide to suspend the powers of that judge until a decision is adopted on the merits of the issue. The aforementioned decision may be adopted in the absence of the judge, in particular if the judge is absent for a good reason.

5. A member of a qualification board of judges may, with the consent of the board, abstain from considering certain materials. A member of a qualification board of judges that participated in its session may not abstain from voting.

6. Presidents and deputy presidents of courts, senior officials of the Judicial Department at the Supreme Court of the Russian Federation and of bodies that are parts of its system, presidents and deputy presidents of councils of judges, of other qualification boards of judges or their representatives may attend the session of a qualification board of judges and state their opinions on the issues discussed.

Article 22. Consideration of Proposals and Addresses regarding Disciplinary Offences Committed by Judges

1. An address of a body of the judiciary regarding the imposition of a disciplinary punishment upon a judge for commission of a disciplinary offence is considered by a qualification board of judges, if the presented materials contain information confirming the circumstances of that offence, written explanations of the judge and evidence presented by her/him in support of those explanations or information that the judge refused to provide such explanations, and data characterising the judge.

A qualification board of judges may, within the framework of its competence, conduct an additional verification of the presented materials, request additional materials and hear the explanations of the corresponding persons regarding the circumstances of commission of the disciplinary offence by the judge.

2. Complaints and addresses containing information about the commission of a disciplinary offence by a judge, received by the qualification board of judges from bodies (except for bodies of the judiciary), as well as from citizens and officials, are considered by the qualification board of judges on its own.

In order to verify the information contained in the aforementioned complaints and addresses, the qualification board of judges may form a commission from the members of the council of judges and members of the qualification board of judges, as well as from representatives of the public and members of staff of the qualification board of judges. The results of the verification are reported by the commission at a session of the qualification board of judges, which adopts a decision on the merits.

3. If an issue is raised regarding the removal of a judge due to commission of a disciplinary offence, or if there is information that the judge committed the aforementioned offence, which requires additional verification, and the judge earlier filed an application for termination of her/his powers on other grounds, the consideration of that application is stayed until the former issue has been considered.

Article 23. Adoption of Decisions by Qualification Boards of Judges

1. A qualification board of judges is authorised to adopt a decision, if more than a half of the commission members are present at its session.

A decision is regarded as adopted, if more than a half of the board members participating in the session vote for it.

A decision regarding the termination or suspension of judicial powers or of a judge's retirement is regarded as adopted, if more than two thirds of the board members participating in the session vote for it.

2. The votes are cast and the decision is adopted in the absence of the judge in whose regard an issue is being considered, as well as in the absence of the invited persons and other persons. A member of a qualification board of judges may state a dissenting opinion in written form. The opinion is attached to the minutes of the session of the qualification board of judges.

2.1. A decision following the consideration of an issue regarding the removal of a judge due to a disciplinary offence or regarding the termination of a judge's retirement due to her/his engagement in activities incompatible with judicial office or in disreputable misconduct is adopted by secret vote of the members of the qualification board of judges. The manner of the secret vote is stipulated in the regulations regarding the work of the qualification board of judges.

2.2. If the qualification board of judges adopts a decision on removal of a judge due to a disciplinary offence or regarding the termination of a judge's retirement due to engagement in activities incompatible with judicial office or in disreputable misconduct, each decision must indicate the reasons for its adoption.

3. The decision of a qualification board of judges is signed by the member presiding over the session and by the board secretary. In case of absence of the board secretary, the board adopts a decision to temporarily impose the secretary's duties upon one of its members.

Article 24. Minutes of the Session of a Qualification Board of Judges

1. Separate minutes are conducted in regard of every issue considered at the session of a qualification board of judges, indicating all the necessary information regarding the course of the session. The minutes are signed by the board member presiding over the session and by the board secretary.

2. Within three days from being notified that the minutes have been signed, the person in whose regard the issue was considered and the person that made the proposal may file written applications to the qualification board of judges, asking to read the aforementioned minutes; these persons may read the minutes and submit their remarks. The aforementioned remarks are to be attached to the minutes of the session of the qualification board of judges.

3. The secretary of the High Qualification Board of Judges of the Russian Federation is a member of staff of the Judicial Department at the Supreme Court of the Russian Federation.
