CRIMINAL CODE OF THE REPUBLIC OF AZERBAIJAN         

GENERAL PART

SECTION ONE

DUTIES AND PRINCIPLES OF THE CRIMINAL LAW OF THE REPUBLIC OF AZERBAI

Article 1. Criminal law of the Republic of Azerbaijan

1.1. The criminal law of the Republic of Azerbaijan consists of this Code.

1.2. This Code is based on the Constitution of the Republic of Azerbaijan, generally accepted and principles of international law.

1.3. Laws defining criminal responsibility and punishing the person who committed a crime applied only after being included in this Code.

Article 2. Duties of the Criminal Code of the Republic of Azerbaijan

2.1. The duties of the Criminal Code of the Republic of Azerbaijan are to ensure peace and of humanity, to protect human and civil rights and freedoms, property, economic activity, public and public safety, the environment, and the constitutional structure of the Republic of Azerbaijan criminal intent, as well as to prevent crimes.

2.2. In order to carry out these tasks, the Criminal Code of the Republic of Azerbaijan defines the bases and principles of criminal liability, the scope of actions considered criminal due to the damage to the person, society and the state, and the types, limits and scope of punishments applied after the commission of those crimes, as well as other criminal-legal measures.

Article 3. Basics of criminal liability

Only the commission of an act (action or inaction) in which all the signs of the composition provided for by this Code are present creates criminal responsibility.

Article 4. Principles of the Criminal Code and criminal liability

This Code is based on the principles of rule of law, equality before the law, responsibility, justice and humanism.

Article 5. Principle of legality

5.1. Criminalization of an act (action or inaction) and punishment and other criminal measures for that act are determined only by this Code.

5.2. Application of the criminal law by analogy is not allowed.

Article 6. The principle of equality before the law

6.1. Persons who have committed crimes are equal before the law and are subject to criminal liability regardless of their race, nationality, religion, language, gender, origin, property status, social position, belief, affiliation to political parties, trade unions and other public associations, or

6.2. According to the grounds provided in Article 6.1 of this Code, no one can be brought to criminal responsibility or punished, or exempted from punishment or criminal responsibility. [\[2\]](#)

Article 7. The principle of responsibility for guilt

7.1. Only a person who is found guilty of a socially dangerous act (action or inaction) can be brought to criminal responsibility and punished.

7.2. A person cannot be held criminally responsible for the damage caused by his innocence.

Article 8. The principle of justice

8.1. Punishment or other criminal-legal measures applied to the person who committed the crime must be fair, that is, they must correspond to the nature of the crime and the degree of public danger of the circumstances of its commission, and the identity of the person found guilty of committing the crime.

8.2. No one can be held criminally responsible twice for the same crime.

Article 9. The principle of humanism

9.1. The Criminal Code ensures the safety of people.

37.1. Bringing the offender to the competent state authorities or arresting him for the purpose of preventing him from committing new crimes is not considered a crime, if the use of all other measures and influence for that purpose did not produce the necessary results and the necessary measures were not exceeded.

37.2. If the means and methods used for the arrest of a person who committed a crime correspond to the degree of public danger of the committed act and the person who committed it, as well as the circumstances of the arrest, and the obvious excessive harm to the person arrested is not considered to exceed the limits of the measures necessary for the arrest of the offender. Exceeding the limit in this manner leads to criminal liability only in case of intentional damage.

38.1. In the case of last necessity, i.e., the act committed by damaging the objects protected by this Code in order to eliminate the danger that directly threatens the life, health and rights of the person himself or others, the interests of the state and society, if in that case the danger can be eliminated by other means it is not considered a crime if it is not possible to raise and in this case the limit of last necessity has not been exceeded.

38.2. Inflicting damage that is obviously not appropriate to the nature and degree of the danger, as well as the conditions for eliminating that danger, and the damage inflicted being equal to or greater than the damage prevented is considered to be exceeding the limit of last necessity. Exceeding the limit of last necessity in this manner leads to criminal liability only in case of intentional damage.

Article 39. Reasonable risk

39.1. Damage to objects protected by this Code as a result of a reasonable risk to achieve a socially useful goal is not considered a crime.

39.2. If the specified goal cannot be achieved by action (inaction) unrelated to the risk, a person taking the risk has taken the necessary measures to eliminate damage to the objects protected by this Code, the risk is considered reasonable.

39.3. A risk accompanied by a knowing threat to human life, environmental or other disaster is not considered reasonable.

Article 40. Execution of the order or order

40.1. It is not considered a crime to damage the objects protected by this Code by that person carrying out the order or order issued in the prescribed manner and the execution of which is mandatory for the person. The person who issued an illegal command or order for such damage is criminally responsible.

40.2. A person who intentionally commits a crime by knowingly carrying out an illegal command or order is subject to criminal liability on general grounds.

40.3. Failure to comply with an illegal command or order does not give rise to criminal liability.

SECTION THREE PENALTIES IN DA

Chapter 9 CONCEPTION, PURPOSE AND TYPES OF PUNISHMENT I

Article 41. Definition and purpose of punishment

41.1. Punishment is a criminal-legal measure determined by a court verdict. The punishment is applied to the person who is found guilty of committing a crime and consists of creating deprivation of liberty, limiting his rights and freedoms as defined by this Code.

41.2. Punishment is applied with the aim of restoring social justice, reforming the convict and preventing the commission of new crimes by both convicts and others.

42.0. The types of punishment are as follows:

42.0.1. penalty;

42.0.2. deprivation of the right to drive a vehicle;

42.0.3. deprivation of the right to hold a certain position or engage in a certain activity;

42.0.4. Social works;

42.0.5. deprivation of a special or military rank, honorary title and state award;

42.0.6. reclamation work;

42.0.7. limitation on military service;

~~42.0.8. confiscation of property,~~ [\[25\]](#)

42.0.9. Forced deportation outside the borders of the Republic of Azerbaijan;

~~42.0.9-1. restriction of freedom,~~ [\[26\]](#)

~~42.0.10. restriction of freedom,~~ [\[27\]](#)

42.0.11. detention in a disciplinary military unit;

42.0.12. imprisonment for a certain period of time;

42.0.13. life imprisonment.

Article 43. Basic and additional punishments

43.1. Public works, correctional works, restriction on military service, detention in a disciplinary military unit, restriction of freedom, deprivation of liberty for a certain period of time and deprivation of liberty for life are applied only as the main punishment. [\[28\]](#)

43.2. Fines, deprivation of the right to hold certain positions or to engage in certain activities are applied as both the main and additional punishments.

43.3. Deprivation of a special or military rank, honorary title or state award, deprivation of the right to drive means of transport, ~~confiscation of property~~ and forced deportation outside the borders of the Republic of Azerbaijan are applied only as additional punishment. [\[29\]](#)

Article 44. Fine

44.1. A fine is a monetary penalty imposed by the court in the cases and amount determined in this Code.

44.2. Taking into account the seriousness of the committed crime and the property status of the convicted person, the fine is determined in the amount of up to twenty thousand manats or in the amount of one to ten times the damage caused as a result of the crime (earned income), as well as in the cases of crimes against property up to one hundred percent of the value of the object of the crime. [\[30\]](#)

44.3. A fine can be imposed as an additional punishment by the courts only in the cases provided for in the relevant articles of the Special part of this Code.

44.4. For those who deliberately refuse to pay the fine, this type of punishment can be replaced by public works, correctional works, restriction of freedom or deprivation of liberty for a certain period of time. [\[31\]](#)

45.1. The type of punishment of deprivation of the right to drive a vehicle can be set for a period of one to five years, taking into account the nature of the crime, the identity of the guilty person and the circumstances of the crime, in the cases provided for by the relevant article of the Special Penal Code.

45.2. In cases where the type of punishment of deprivation of the right to drive a vehicle is prescribed in addition to the punishments of detention in a disciplinary military unit or deprivation of liberty, the additional punishment applies to the entire period of the main punishment and, in addition, to the period specified in the sentence for this type of punishment. In cases where this type of punishment is prescribed in addition to other main punishments, as well as in the case of a conditional sentence, the term of the additional punishment is calculated from the moment the sentence enters into legal force. [\[32\]](#)

Article 46. Deprivation of the right to hold a certain position or engage in a certain activity

46.1. Deprivation of the right to hold a certain position or to engage in a certain activity consists of the prohibition of holding a specific position in state bodies, local self-government bodies or engaging in a specific profession or other activity. This type of punishment is prescribed for the period from one to five years as the main punishment, and from one to three years as the additional punishment.

46.2. If, taking into account the nature and public danger of the committed crime and the characteristics of the guilty person, the court considers it impossible to maintain his right to hold a certain position or engage in a certain activity, that person may be prevented from holding a certain position or engaging in a certain activity. The court determines the type of punishment of deprivation of the right to engage in a certain activity or hold a certain position as an additional punishment.

46.3. In cases where the type of punishment of deprivation of the right to hold a certain position or engage in a certain activity is prescribed in addition to the punishments of detention in a disciplinary military unit or deprivation of liberty, the additional punishment shall be for the entire period of the main punishment and, in addition, for the period specified in the sentence for this type of punishment. In cases where this type of punishment is prescribed in addition to a fine and other main punishments, as well as in the case of a conditional sentence, the term of the additional punishment is calculated from the moment the sentence enters into legal force. [\[33\]](#)

Article 47. Public works

47.1. Community service consists of the convict performing public useful work for the benefit of society without payment of a fee in his free time from his main job or education. ~~The types of public works~~ are determined by ~~the relevant executive authority.~~ [\[34\]](#)

50.3. A person sentenced to a term of limitation for military service cannot be promoted to a higher position or rank while he is serving his sentence, and the term of the sentence cannot be counted towards the years of service for granting the next military rank.

50.4. Limitation on military service does not apply to active military servicemen and cadets in military education institutions training military servicemen. [\[46\]](#)

~~Article 51. Confiscation of property~~ [\[47\]](#)

51.1. ~~Property confiscation consists of compulsory and gratuitous confiscation of the tools and means used by the convict while committing the crime, the objects of the crime, as well as the property acquired through the crime.~~ [\[48\]](#)

51.2. ~~Property confiscation is determined only in the cases provided for in the relevant articles of the Special part of this Code.~~

51.3. ~~If the property obtained by crime or the object of the crime is used, alienated or otherwise disposed of, confiscated by the state for other reasons, the money or other property belonging to the convict in the amount of the value of that property shall be confiscated.~~

Article 52. Forced deportation outside the borders of the Republic of Azerbaijan

52.1. The penalty of forced deportation outside the borders of the Republic of Azerbaijan is imposed on foreigners or stateless persons who have been sentenced to imprisonment for more than one year, and it is executed after they have served the main type of punishment. Foreigners or stateless persons sentenced to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year or to a punishment not involving deprivation of liberty may be sentenced to forced deportation outside the borders of the Republic of Azerbaijan, taking into account the circumstances specified in Article 58.3 of this Code. [\[49\]](#)

52.1-1. The right of a person who has been sentenced to deportation outside the borders of the Republic of Azerbaijan to come to the Republic of Azerbaijan is restricted until his sentence is removed. [\[50\]](#)

52.2. The type of punishment of forced deportation outside the borders of the Republic of Azerbaijan does not apply to the following persons:

52.2.1. to persons who have been living permanently in the territory of the Republic of Azerbaijan for five years until the indictment comes into legal force;

52.2.2. persons who are married to a citizen of the Republic of Azerbaijan before the indictment enters into legal force;

52.2.5. to persons who have refugee status or who have been granted political asylum in the Republic of Azerbaijan;

52.2.6. to persons who have a minor child who is a citizen of the Republic of Azerbaijan under their care, or a person who is disabled due to 81-100 percent impairment of body functions ; [\[51\]](#)

52.2.7. to persons who are suspected to have serious grounds to be subjected to persecution in the country of destination at the time of forced removal or whose forced removal is contrary to the interests of ensuring national security . [\[52\]](#)

52.3. If there is a conflict between the international agreements to which the Republic of Azerbaijan is a party and Articles 52.1-52.2 of this Code, the international agreements shall be applied. [\[53\]](#)

Article 52-1. Restriction of freedom [\[54\]](#)

52-1.1. The penalty of restriction of liberty consists in keeping the prisoner under residential supervision without complete isolation from society. The court restricts the convict from leaving the place of residence (completely or at certain times of the day) and certain territorial limits.

52-1.2. A person sentenced to restriction of liberty must perform the following duties:

52-1.2.1. not to leave the place of residence completely or at certain times of the day;

Chapter 10

DETERMINATION OF PENALTIES I

Article 58. General provisions on the determination of penalties

58.1. A person found guilty of committing a crime shall be given a fair punishment within the limits stipulated in the relevant articles of the Special part, taking into account the provisions of the General part of this Code. A type or limit of punishment that is more severe than the punishment provided for the committed crime is set only if a less severe type or limit of punishment cannot serve the goals of the punishment. [\[63\]](#)

58.2. For the committed crime, a more severe punishment than the punishment provided for in the relevant articles of the Special part of this Code can be imposed only in accordance with Article 67 of the same Code, based on the totality of the crimes and the totality of the sentences. The grounds for imposing a lighter punishment than the punishment provided for in the relevant articles of the Special part of this Code for the committed crime are determined by Article 62 of that Code.

58.3. When determining the punishment, the nature of the committed crime and the degree of public danger, the identity of the culprit, including mitigating and aggravating circumstances, and the effect of the imposed punishment on the reformation of the person and the living conditions of his family, are taken into account.

Article 59. Circumstances mitigating the punishment

59.1. The mitigating circumstances are as follows:

59.1.1. on the basis of the random course of events, the first time committing a crime that causes a great public danger or a less serious crime;

59.1.7. committing the crime by violating the conditions of necessary protection, arrest of a person who has committed a socially dangerous act, last necessity, substantial risk, execution of an order;

59.1.8. committing the crime under the influence of the victim's illegal or immoral action or state of strong mental excitement (affect) that occurred suddenly as a result of these actions;

59.1.9. the commission of the crime by a person with a mental disorder that does not exclude intent. [\[64\]](#)

59.1.10. the person voluntarily comes and confesses his guilt, actively helps to solve the crime, and assists other participants, search and find the property obtained as a result of the crime;

59.1.11. immediately after the commission of the crime, by providing medical or other assistance to the victim, reducing the damage to his life and health; [\[65\]](#)

59.1.12. reconciliation with the victim or his legal heir who is his close relative;

59.1.13. voluntary full compensation or elimination of damage caused by crime;

59.1.14. partial payment of the damage caused as a result of the crime or taking other actions resulting in the reduction of the damage.

59.3. The mitigating circumstance provided for as a sign of the criminal offense in the article of the Special Part of this Code cannot be taken into account again when determining punishment.

Article 60. Determination of punishment in case of mitigating circumstances

60.1. If all the circumstances provided for in any of Articles 59.1.8, 59.1.10—59.1.13 of this Code are present and if there are no aggravating circumstances, the term or extent of the imposed punishment shall be a more serious punishment provided for in the corresponding article of the Special Part of this Code. cannot be more than three quarters of the limit of its type. [\[67\]](#)

60.2. If the sanction of the corresponding article of the Special part of this Code stipulates the penalty of imprisonment, the rule defined in Article 60.1 of this Code shall not be applied. [\[68\]](#)

Article 61. Circumstances aggravating the punishment

61.1. Aggravating circumstances are the following:

61.1.1. re-commitment of crimes, recidivism of crimes;

61.1.2. that the crime has serious consequences;

61.1.3. the commission of the crime by a group of persons, an organized gang or a criminal association (organization) who colluded in advance;

61.1.4. particularly active participation in the commission of a crime;

61.1.5. Involvement of persons suffering from mental disorders or in a state of intoxication as persons under the age of criminal responsibility;

61.1.6. the commission of the crime on the basis of national, racial or religious enmity, fanaticism, revenge for the legal actions of other persons, for the purpose of greed or other criminal intentions, as well as for the purpose of covering up another crime or facilitating its commission;

61.1.7. committing the crime against a woman who is obviously pregnant for the perpetrator as against a person who is minor, elderly or helpless or dependent on the perpetrator; [\[69\]](#)

61.1.8. the commission of a crime against a person performing his service or public duty or his relatives;

61.1.9. committing the crime against the victim with special cruelty, including suffering or torture;

61.1.10. committing the crime using firearms, explosives or other generally dangerous methods or technical means;

61.1.11. the commission of the crime during a state of emergency or martial law, natural disaster, public disaster, as well as during mass riots; [\[70\]](#)

61.1.12. committing the crime using the special clothes or documents of the representative authorities;

61.1.13. the commission of the crime by using the trust given to the offender under the public service or the contract.

61.2. Circumstances not specified in Articles 61.1.1-61.1.13 of this Code cannot be taken into account as aggravating circumstances when determining the punishment.

Article 62. Setting a lighter punishment than the one determined for the crime

62.1. The purpose and motive of the crime, the role of the perpetrator in the commission of the crime, exceptional circumstances related to his behavior during and after the commission of the crime, as well as other circumstances that significantly reduce the public danger of the crime, as well as the fact that the participant of the crime committed with complicity actively helps to solve that crime, the provisions of this Code allow a punishment less than the lower limit specified in the relevant article of the Special Part of this Code to be imposed, or the court may impose a lighter type of punishment than that specified in the relevant article, or may not impose an additional punishment that must be imposed.

62.2. Both individual circumstances mitigating the punishment, as well as the totality of circumstances, can be considered as exceptional circumstances.

Article 63. Punishment for an uncommitted crime

63.1. When determining the punishment for an uncompleted crime, the circumstances of the non-completion of the crime are taken into account.

63.2. The duration or extent of the punishment for criminal preparation may not exceed the upper limit of the more serious type of punishment determined for the completed crime in the article of the Special Part of this Code.

63.3. The duration or extent of the punishment for an attempt to commit a crime may not exceed three quarters of the upper limit of the more serious type of punishment determined for the completed crime in the relevant article of the Special Part of this Code.

63.4. Life imprisonment is not imposed for preparation of a crime or an attempt to commit a crime.

Article 64. Punishment for a crime committed with participation

64.1. When determining the punishment for a crime committed with participation, the nature and degree of the actual participation of each of the participants in the commission of the crime, the importance of such participation in achieving the criminal goal, and its effect on the extent and nature of the damage are taken into account.

64.2. If the mitigating or aggravating circumstances of the punishment apply to only one of the participants, the punishment is taken into account only in relation to that person.

Article 65. Determination of punishment for recidivism

65.1. When determining punishment for recidivism, dangerous recidivism, and especially dangerous recidivism, the number, nature, gravity and consequences of previously committed crimes, the circumstances that caused the insufficient correctional effect of the previous punishment, as well as the nature, gravity and consequences of the new crime are taken into account.

65.2. The term of punishment for recidivism cannot be less than half of the maximum term of the more serious type of punishment defined in the relevant article of the Special Part of this Code for the committed crime, two-thirds for dangerous recidivism, and three-fourths for especially dangerous recidivism.

65.3. When the conviction of the person who committed the crime is specified as a description in the article of the Special part of this Code, as well as in the case of exceptional cases provided in Article 62 of this Code, punishment for recidivism, dangerous recidivism or especially dangerous recidivism, without taking into account the rules established in Article 65.2 of this Code is set.

Article 66. Determining the punishment for the set of crimes

66.1. The court for the totality of crimes imposes a penalty for each crime separately, by covering a less serious punishment with a more serious one, or by combining the prescribed punishments in whole or in part.

66.2. If the set of crimes includes crimes that do not pose a great public danger or less serious crimes, final punishment is imposed by including a less serious punishment with a more serious one or by combining the prescribed punishments in whole or in part. In this case, the term or volume of the punishment determined by covering a less serious punishment with a more serious one cannot be more severe than the punishments determined separately for the crimes included in the aggregate. The duration or extent of definitive punishment determined by total or partial accumulation of punishments is three years for crimes that do not cause a great public danger in the case of imprisonment, twelve years for less serious crimes, and in the case of other punishments, the corresponding type of punishment is in the General Part of this Code. cannot exceed the upper limit specified for [\[72\]](#)

66.3. If the set of crimes includes any of the ~~less serious~~, serious or especially serious crimes, final punishment is imposed by adding up the prescribed punishments in whole or in part. In the case of imprisonment, the term of imprisonment cannot exceed twenty years. If a sentence of life imprisonment or twenty years of imprisonment is imposed for one of the crimes included in the set of crimes, the final punishment is imposed by covering a less serious punishment with a more serious one. [\[73\]](#)

66.4. Additional types of punishment determined for those crimes in the relevant article of the Special part of this Code can be added to the main punishment set for the set of crimes. The duration or volume of the definitive additional punishment determined by total or partial collection may not exceed the upper limit established in the General Part of this Code for that type of punishment.
